here lies
BEETELGEUSE

FRIGHTFULLY FESTIVE TV

Glee

10/26/10 FOX

After learning that Emma (Jayma Mays) loves "The Rocky Horror Picture Show," Will (Matthew Morrison) has the glee club perform the stage version for the school's annual musical. This would be the same Will who, just a few weeks ago, found Britney Spears too controversial for the club. Say what you will about this show's writers; they certainly don't feel overly constrained by logic. Jane Lynch also stars in the new episode "The Rocky Horror Glee Show."

The Real Story of Halloween

10/26/10 HISTORY

From its roots as a pagan holiday honoring departed souls to modern traditions of breaking rules, pushing boundaries and wearing disguises, Allhallows Eve remains a time for people to confront and reflect on their own mortality in myriad ways. Although many Halloween parties may be festive affairs, most people still enjoy getting a good scare on this witchy holiday.

Ghost Hunters

10/27/10 SYFY

After checking out the reportedly haunted Ulster County Jail in Kingston, N.Y., the Ghost Hunters are off to Atlanta to investigate the Antebellum Plantation in Stone Mountain Park, a living museum made up of 18th and 19th century buildings from all over Georgia. Here's the hitch: Workers claim spirits of those who once dwelled in these buildings came along for the ride in the new episode "The Oldest House in Georgia."

SCOOBY-DOO! CURSE OF THE LAKE MONSTER

10/28/10 CARTOON

Roopee! Everyone's favorite snacks-lovin', spooks-shunnin' Great Dane returns for a new adventure, in which the CGI-rendered Scooby-Doo (voice of Frank Welker) and his live-action buddies Daphne, Fred, Vilma and Raggy (Kate Melton, Robbie Amell, Hayley Kiyoko, Nick Palatas) – oops, make that "Shaggy" – run into weird creatures while working at Daphne's uncle's country club. Ruh-roh!

Scared Shrekless

10/28/10 NBC

If you saw "Shrek the Halls," you know the green ogre took his time getting in the Christmas spirit. That's not the case with Halloween, though; he loves that holiday. In this new special, he challenges his fairy-tale friends to a scary storytelling contest, but there's a catch: They all have to spend the night in Lord Farquaad's haunted castle. Mike Myers, Cameron Diaz and Antonio Banderas reprise their voice roles from the "Shrek" movies.

Ghost Adventures

10/29/10 TRAVEL

When you think of a classic American Halloween, most people's minds probably don't go immediately to the heart of the Arizona desert, but paranormal investigators Zak Bagans, Nick Groff and their equipment technician, Aaron Goodwin, uncover plenty of eerie experiences at the Vulture Mine, where the evil spirits of greedy 1800s prospectors still are said to haunt the collapsed mine.

Amityville: The Final Testament

10/31/10 A&E

More than 35 years after he was sent to prison for the horrifying crime of killing his entire family, a terminal illness impels Ronald DeFeo Jr. to tell the whole story of what became known to millions as "the Amityville murders" to renowned psychic Jackie Barrett. Utilizing her unique ability and unprecedented access to DeFeo, Barrett presents what may become the definitive account of this bone-chilling case.

The Walking Dead

10/31/10 AMC

What's this? Zombies on the cable home of prestige shows "Mad Men" and "Breaking Bad"? It isn't really about the brain munchers, though, as police officer Rick Grimes (Brit actor Andrew Lincoln) tries to lead a terrified band of survivors to a new, safe home in an America devastated by a "zombie apocalypse" in director Frank Darabont's splendid six-part adaptation of Robert Kirkman's comic-book series.

THE SIMPSONS

11/07/10 FOX

In the new "Treehouse of Terror XXI," Marge (voice of Julie Kavner), worried about their violent video games, encourages Bart and Milhouse (voices of Nancy Cartwright, Pamela Hayden) to play board games. Lisa (voice of Yeardley Smith) becomes smitten with a new student, a vampire (guest voice Daniel Radcliffe). While on a second honeymoon, Homer (voice of Dan Castellaneta) and Marge rescue a castaway (guest voice Hugh Laurie) who may be a killer.
